New Poetry by Yael Hacohen

Fortitude

Seven times I've been to the Wall to scribble my prayers and fold them into the seams in the yellow stones. The walls of Jericho fell on the seventh so I elbow my way through the crowd to put my ear to the stones and hear the horses surround them, but the wail of sirens drown out the hooves the herds disperse from the plaza and I forsake the Wall to let it stand on its own an ancient olive tree straining against its plot in the dirt.

Pre Traumatic

```
The first time I shot an M-16□
it was the heat of summer in the Negev. □ Gas-operated with a rotating bolt, □ five-point-fifty six caliber, □ with nineteen bullets a box. □
I could shoot like an angel,□
I could hit a running target □
at six-hundred-fifty meters. □
I cried the first time.□
I was eighteen.
Already, my hair in a bun.
You didn't stand
a chance.□
```
